Company history/background

Project Robura is a specialized niche contractor active in technically complex demolition, concrete, and foundation works. The company is based in East Flanders and works primarily as a subcontractor for professional contractors and construction companies in Belgium.

The company possesses over 35 years of experience and distinguishes itself through its technical expertise, flexible operations, and strong reputation in preparatory construction. Thanks to its recurring client relationships, experienced operational team, and trusted subcontractors, Robura enjoys a stable commercial foundation.

The team consists of 4 permanent employees, supplemented by 2 trusted subcontractors who can be called upon for additional capacity and flexibility. The experienced operational team has more than 10 years of seniority per employee.
